Journal of Creative Work (online, peer-reviewed). Tangos for piano by J. J. Castro

This peer-reviewed journal published my recording of Tangos by Argentine composer Juan José Castro. This composer was the subject of my DMA dissertation. Tangos is an early-advanced work with high pedagogical value that I regularly include in my pedagogical presentations on Latin American music. Accepted in July 2007

2002

Participation in Luis Giannone: Complete Works for Piano in Three CDs

Released by Marco Polo, produced by Ostinato Foundation. Recorded approximately 45 minutes of music for volumes 1 and 3

Review: "This recording contains music well-worth exploring. The music is compelling and rendered with fire." M. Barela, American Record Guide.

Review: "Giannone's attractive piano music is well-served by the present performers and is given a warm, natural piano sound. I for one hope that Volume 2 will soon be released, for, judging by the present recordings, Giannone's music greatly deserves to be re-assessed, the more so when it is played, as it is here, by dedicated performers." Hubert CULOT Classical Music Web.

Participation in Carlos Guastavino: Songs and Piano Duos

Released by the Ostinato Foundation in 2002. Recorded works for two pianos.

1998

Participation in "Carlos Guastavino: Complete Works for Piano Solo in Three CDs."

Released by IRCO, Argentina in three CDs in 1998. Recorded several solo piano pieces.

- Keyboard harmony. MUSC 2325
- Applied piano lessons. PMUS 1636-5636

B. Curricular Development and Major Course Revisions

Adaptation of pedagogy courses to online instruction

The pandemic forced everyone to adapt courses to online instruction. For academic classes in piano pedagogy (MUSC 5315, MUSC 3345 and 3355, and MUSC 5345) this required some revision of goals and assignments. Spring and fall 2020.

Development of online versions for ALL class piano courses at CU

The advent of the COVID-19 pandemic meant that all class piano and keyboard musicianship courses (MUEL 1115, 1125 and PMUS 1105, 1205, 2105 and 2205) had to move online, either as hybrid courses or online courses. This required a MAJOR redesign of the curriculum and training of the TAs teaching these courses. Spring and fall 2020.

Development of online version of course MUEL 1115 for summer sessions

This online course was offered for the first time in Session B in the summer 2014, and has been offered every summer since then.

Development of self-published textbook for the class MUEL 1115

This text is used in this class for non-music majors along with the software PianoMarvel. Summer 2013.

Creation and Supervision of CU's Youth Piano Program.

This program offers lessons for 25-30 beginning and intermediate pre-college piano students. The instructors are current graduate students. The program serves as a way to offer practical teaching experience and observation opportunities to undergraduate and graduate piano majors taking Piano Pedagogy courses. It is co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Department at CU Boulder. Fall 2013-present.

Development of a revised, computer-based curriculum for the class MUEL 1115

Revisions included the adoption of the interactive tool PianoMarvel software to deliver content and to track student progress. Fall 2012

Creation and implementation of a Group Piano Class for children

This course for children 7 to 9 years old was created to provide a service to the Boulder community, and to provide observation and teaching opportunities to students taking MUSC 3345, Elementary Piano Pedagogy, and MUSC 5404, Group Piano Pedagogy. This class was taught by a graduate student in piano. 2006

Revision of Master's of Music Degree in Piano Performance and Pedagogy. Spring 2005

Incorporation of computer technology in class piano courses PMUS 1105, 1205, 2105 and 2205, and EMUS 1115 and 1125

Technology included: computer hardware (13 Mac mini computers with MIDI interfaces, connected 13 to electronic keyboards) and computer software (PianoTools, RachSolid, PianoMarvel, MIDI Swing, Home Concert Xtreme). 2004 to present

C. Course Development

"Exploring Latin American Music."

Co-director and content developer for an eight hour long online course for the Frances Clark Center for Keyboard Pedagogy. Course will be launched online in summer 2023.

Development of course MUSC 2041: Applications of Music Technology: Teaching Music with Technology

This new "modular" 5-week course was developed and approved in 2018 and will be offered for the first time in the Spring 2019.

Development of MUSC 5345, Research: Music Literature and Pedagogy.

This course was "in the books" but had not been offered for many years. The development of this course involved self-study of quantitative research techniques and educational technology. Spring 2006
