I taught masterclasses and coached students from conservatories worldwide, including Beijing Central Conservatory, Sibelius Academy, Vienna Mozarteum, Yong Siew Toh Conservatory, and Queensland Conservatorium. I also performed in an artist faculty chamber music concert with faculty from McGill University (the host institution) as well as side-by-side with the students. Each institution invited to participate brought one faculty representative and a student chamber group. The students had the opportunity to perform with their groups as well as to work during the week in mixed groups with the other participants. Throughout the week there were masterclasses, coachings, and workshops to discuss chamber music and aspects of chamber playing. - American Music Abroad was a 35-day long tour of Kazakhstan, Turkmenistan, and Azerbaijan with “cello rock” group Break of Reality. We were selected by audition to represent the United States as “Musical Ambassadors.” The tour was sponsored by the US Department of State’s Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. We were performing and teaching in these countries with the goal of fostering cross-cultural education and “people-to-people” connections with global audiences. We also toured across Brazil through the same program.
- Guest Lecturer, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, New York, NY 2014
- In October 2014, I presented a lecture for a Music and Medicine Seminar at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai. The lecture focused on my dissertation research at The Juilliard School on Soviet composer Vissarion Shebalin, who suffered a series of strokes in the middle of his life which resulted in aphasia, the loss of verbal language; despite this, he continued to compose. I analyzed his string quartets both pre- and post-stroke to elucidate changes in his compositional language that can be linked to the loss of verbal language.
- Studio Assistant to Joel Krosnick, The Juilliard School 2010 – 2014
- Assisted Joel Krosnick with lessons, scheduling, and studio class.
- Music Advancement Program (MAP) Fellowship, The Juilliard School 2012 – 2014
- The Music Advancement Program at Juilliard is designed for students in the Greater New York area who demonstrate talent, have the potential to eventually graduate into the Juilliard Pre-College Program, and may not have access to music in their schools. I taught a full studio of private cello students, assisted with orchestra, ran sectionals, and taught and designed the curriculum for the “Performance Practicum” class for advanced students. In this class we discussed issues that citizen artists face today, practice techniques, and topics such as innovation in the arts. We also held studio class at least once a month. There were approximately 15 students in my class. Successful graduates of my studio have gone on to attend schools such as Bard College Conservatory of Music and Berklee College of Music.
- Gluck Community Service Fellowship, The Juilliard School 2010 – 2015
- As part of this fellowship, I performed with a group from Juilliard in different informal outreach concerts throughout New York. We performed in a variety of venues including hospitals, in-patient clinics, out-patient clinics, psychiatric wards, community centers, retirement communities, schools, and hospices.
- Break of Reality* Education Bus Tour 2014
- A two-week concert and education tour that took place in May 2014 with “cello rock” group Break of Reality. Break of Reality is committed to music education, and in addition to playing concerts, we also visited schools in every city on the tour and performed in workshops and educational concerts to inspire the students to think outside-of-the-box with their classical instruments. All proceeds from the concerts were donated back to benefit each school’s music department.
- Bowdoin International Music Festival, Virtuosi 2013, 2014
- In addition to performing on the faculty concerts and participating in the festival outreach concerts, I also shared a full studio of private cello students with cellist David Requiro. Students at the festival received two lessons a week.

Juilliard MAP at French Woods Performing Arts Camp 2014

I designed and taught a music curriculum for the MAP students at the French Woods Performing Arts Camp. I also taught private lessons, coached chamber orchestra, ran sectionals, played in the orchestra pit for musicals, and worked as a general camp counselor.

Instrumental Music Program Fellowship, The Juilliard School 2011 – 2013

In the Instrumental Music Program (now part of Juilliard's Morse Fellowship), I taught group cello lessons for two years to the same group of five students at New York Public School PS-84. All of the students started as beginners and were selected by lottery to be in my class. We gave one concert per semester, which I organized with the violin teacher and a parent volunteer.

Ladies Musical Club Award Tour of Washington State 2012

As the first prize-winner of this competition, I was awarded a week-long concert tour in Washington State. An essential part of the tour was a series of masterclasses and outreach concerts in every city in which we performed. The tour concluded with a radio appearance and live performance for Seattle's KING FM on the show Northwest Focus Live.
