ACADEMIC and PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT

Service to academic/public community

Deputy Editor (history/social science):	Climatic Change
Associate Series Editor:	Anthem Press
Editorial Board:	Environmental Communication: A Journal of Nature & Culture
Editorial Board:	Global Environmental Change
Advisory Board:	Journal of Environmental Media

Over the past 15+ at CU Boulder years I have conducted numerous peer reviews for approximately fifty different journals, while I have reviewed book prospectuses for 15 different book publishers. I have conducted grant reviews for about 12 different programs, including the National Science Foundation, UK Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC) and the Leverhulme Foundation. I have evaluated submissions for six conferences and six reports as well as countless informal reviews for peers and colleagues. Over the past nine years, I have collaborated with Professor Beth Osnes with experimentation about comedy as a creative and effective communication. This work has involved partnerships with professional comedians (led by Chuck Nice, co-host of Star Talk with Neil DeGrasse Tyson) in Los Angeles, New York City, Washington DC and London, England along with University of Colorado Boulder students. Over the past year, I have experimented with advertising for climate action. This has involved collaboration with Professor Beth Osnes and Professor Harsha Gangaharbatla and students at the University of Colorado Boulder along with collaborators at Yale University (Anthony Leiserowitz), George Mason University (Edward Maibach), City of Boulder (Jonathan Koehn, Emily Sandoval), Boulder County (Susie Strife, Christian Herrmann) and Netflix Don't Look Up (Eileen Chen). Over the past four years, I have partnered with Trash the Runway to interrogate sustainable and fast fashion as it relates to climate and environmental impacts.
